

FLAYSHER

Based on the last name of two 'born and raised' Albertan brothers, Flaysher is a CMAB Award-nominated Canadian country duo and Top 12 finalist in Alberta Music's 2021/2022 PROJECT WILD competition. They have grit in their blood harmonies and unvarnished truths in their lyrics. Inspired by the storytelling in 90s country and the high-octane energy of heartland rock classics, Flaysher's songs are rooted in the influence of their upbringing. Raised in small-town Airdrie, you can almost hear the sawdust in their voices from growing up on dusty job sites working for the family business.

Although their upcoming single, "Good For You," has undeniable hometown country tones, Flaysher's identifiable edgy tones are taken to a new level. This translates into their most raw single to date. The song speaks to the stubborn side in all of us - coming to terms with missing an ex but refusing to change who we are to go chase them.

These two have voices that melt together perfectly. They harmonize only the way family can.

Their small-town work ethic paired with humility and great talent will set them apart from others. I can guarantee that.

"It's a little more of the rock growl mixed in with classic country music storytelling. The song is introspective while also boldly acknowledging that sometimes a relationship just isn't the right fit."
