

FLAYSHER

200-word BIOGRAPHY – FEBRUARY 2022

Based on the last name of 'born and raised' Albertan brothers, Flaysher is a CMAB Award-nominated country duo with grit in their blood harmonies and unvarnished truths in their lyrics. Inspired by artists such as Bob Seger and Dallas Smith, Flaysher's songs are rooted in the influence of their upbringing. Raised in small-town Airdrie, Alberta, you can almost hear the sawdust in their voices from growing up on dusty job sites working for the family business.

Flaysher's latest single, "Wild One," has an undeniable energy and a melody you just can't help but sing along to. The track was written by Nashville heavy hitters Tebey, Emma-Lee and Karen Kosowski and produced by Dan Swinimer (Billy Currington, Tenille Townes, Madeline Merlo, to name a few). It's a feel-good song about the kind of girl you know you can't hold onto for long yet can't help but try.

These true blue-collar boys are known for their high-energy live performances. Every time they hit the stage you can't help but feel the passion they have for performing and lifting people up and those who are lucky enough to catch them in concert will feel enriched by a moment they won't soon forget.
